My name is Lawrence Grant. I worked with Hunter at Fireman's Fund Insurance Company in New York circa 1963 to 1966 or so. I thought of him recently when I heard our boss at the time, Ross Cowan, now 94, was seriously ill. I have kept in touch with Ross for fifty-eight years. Anyway, hearing about Ross reminded of my time working with Hunter and a memory that still makes me smile. Hunter had to be reminded that he hadn't cashed his salary check almost a Monty after it had been issued. It was hard for me to believe that someone could have forgotten to cash their check.

Where do you start when you try to explain your relationship with Hunter? We had the privilege of relocating Hunter and Julie from San Antonio in 2005/2006. A very special friendship developed and we have enjoyed cocktails after work; train rides and sunsets on Beaver Lake together... memories we shall cherish forever. He was a true and loyal friend and so special to our entire family. Our only regret, is we just didn't have enough time together. I feel so blessed to have shared one last scotch with Hunter this past Wednesday evening. Julie and family; we are here for you day or night and you all will continue to be in our prayers. Much love, John and Joyce

Hunter was one very special person. I have such fond memories of Julie, Hunter and my time together. I remember when Julie first met Hunter and how excited she was when he became a part of her life. I remember Saturday afternoons at Culpepper's in St. Louis eating wings and drinking Bloody Mary's with Hunter and Julie. I remember the special birthday party Julie threw for Hunter at her apartment off of Lindbergh Blvd. I remember a great weekend in Lincoln Park at the condo. I remember fun times in San Antonio eating at Julie and Hunter's favorite restaurants or eating Julie's outstanding meals at their house. I remember a trip to the hardware store with Hunter after I bought my house--coming home with more tools and supplies than I ever thought I could use. And I remember what a good friend Hunter was. He will be missed. I will always have a special place in my heart for Hunter. Julie, please know that my thoughts are with you and Hunter's family at this sad time.

I met Hunter in 1979 when we worked at Frank B.Hall in Briarcliff Manor.Hunter was a very dear and unique friend. He seemed to know when you were in need of a logical piece of advice or a helping hand and he would show up. He was scary smart and we had some lively discussions over the years. What I most enjoyed about him was his constant thirst for knowledge and his ability to make you excited about learning new things.Good friends are a precious gift and I will miss him very much.
