My sweet baby sis, I will miss you every single day for the rest of my life. When I was younger, I prayed to God to bring me a baby sister. He answered my prayers and sent you to me. I am so blessed to have had you in my life. Sweet, spunky, onry, mischevious, loyal and caring. You have blessed this family with your presence and with sweet baby Jaxin. I am so happy that we will always have a little onry piece of you in Jaxin. She is so much like her mommy and I promise I will help Rick take care of her forever. She will know you through your family and friends, we will make certain of that. I wish I could have held baby Cazik in my arms but I am at peace knowing that he is with you in heaven. I know you are showing him off to everyone there and granny is "nussing that baby". Thank you God for giving me 26 wonderful years with my baby sis and help me to walk with you so that I can see her again someday. I love you Bobbie.

These last few days my thoughts have been filled with memories of Bobbie. I have so many great memories. She had this spark about her- she could talk me into doing almost anything. She made you feel like you were the only person that mattered. She would make me laugh uncontrollably. She was so very special to me. She made growing up a lot easier. Thank you to her family for letting me share in your lives when I was younger. Rick, I only met you once in passing at a softball game, but Bobbie spoke of how happy you made her, and I could see it in her face. Thank you for loving her so well. She will be missed.

Everytime you see Jax smile you will be reminded of your beautiful wife. And Jax will hear so many stories from Aunt Britt about her mother. At such a confusing time there is one thing I know for sure and that is the love Bobbie has for you and Jax. I pray that God will begin the healing soon. With all our love - John & Britt

Over the last few days, Liz and I have been sharing memories of Bobbie. Many tears, but most of all the great times with her. The years that I coached Bobbie were full of many happy times for the High School, our community, and the players on those three teams. A large part to that happiness, was Bobbie. Every player I've coached since Bobbie has had a lot to live up to: because Bobbie has been the model of what I believe a Farmington Softball player should be and will always be as long as I continue to coach. She was so passionate about the sport she played. By no means was the passion ever taken as a petite characteristic. She was anything but petite; she had a mental and physical toughness that was unmatched. She carried herself in this manner on and off the field. But, for all that truly knew Bobbie; knew that behind that tough exterior lied a heart of gold and a good soul. Your memory lives in all of us who were fortunate enough to know you. Our thoughts and prayers are with your family.
