Bryan, it is always a tough time when you lose someone close to you. Just remember the many happy times and what she meant to you. I think about how my dad had been ill for awhile, before he died. But, I think of seeing him some day and that he is no longer ill and suffering. In heaven, there is no illness or grieving about anything!What a great day when we are able to see our family; The bible says we will know and be known!You and family will be in our prayers.Les

Nicole was an inspiration to anyone who knew her. Her time on earth was so short and our acquaintance with her even shorter. We called her our little giant. Her heart and spirit much out weighed her person.

Dear Bryan, Ed and Christa,I was so sorry to read of the passing of one of my closest friends. She was a friend indeed. She helped me through a real rough time in my life and I will forever be grateful for all her support, a listening ear, and a shoulder to cry on. We had a lot of good discussions about our closest friend, Jesus. My heart is sad for you all but also rejoicing that she made it home to be with the Lord. I am looking forward to see her in her well-glorified body in Heaven. I will miss her very much.
