We know that this a very unexpected and tragic loss. Especially for the loved ones left behind, but, remember that she is at peace and in a wonderful place. One day you will be re-united with her. Kathy would not want sadness and tears. Angie remember the song you sang " Wind beneath My Wings,". Everytime you feel the wind remember that it is your mom looking down on all of you and giving you the push you need to go forward and remember the good memories of her life.
