I met Mr. Kiker when he first moved to Fayetteville from Texas. He was a customer of mine at the bank. I always enjoyed working with him and he always asked for me. I felt he trusted me to help him. I left the bank about a year ago and had not seen him since. I know his health was declining in recent years. Hopefully he is at peace and has joined his wife. All my best to the family. Chris

I only knew Mr. Kiker for a brief time. I was grateful for the experience to be of help to him. I still think about the things he said to me. I ask him one day if he ever played golf? He told me yes and in his day he was pretty good, however, he thought he should have worked more. Ha!! I know he is happy now. His desire was not to be a burden to anyone. May God bless him on his way. My best to the family. Thanks for sharing him with me. Ron Liter
