My mother always told me, "STAND STRONG BABE", well, that's what I'm doing. My mother could always be herself around me and we would laugh about the rest. She shared with me many times how happy she felt around me and not having to watch what she says or couldn't act the way she wanted. We had sooooo much fun together partying, dancing, and laughing about the men trying to get us to dance. Wow, there's so much to remember but I do know one thing, SHE LEFT ME ALL HER TRAITS, HER FUN WAYS, And many SECRETS. My whole entire world changed when I saw her take the last breath she had in her. The only thing I'd change on this day when she left me was the surrounding ones who truly were a cartoon character to my mother. Oh well, I'm living life as she did. Thank u mother for all the true you when we were together. Loving u is all I ever do in life. You r the beat, you will always be the best, and no one could ever fill your high heels. Missing the party's with u which we stayed up all night then ended up at the waffle hut or ihop. Forever and ever, this is how long u will be missed. Warmly, your true daughter CHERYL (your little miss "T".)

Missing u more or beyond any words I could actually express. Others tell me time heals but there's no truth to that whatsoever. U leaving me down here with all these crazy people is just something I'll never get over , but it's something I'll try to get through. There's one thing I wish more than life itself, IF ONLY HEAVEN HAD A PHONE NUMBER. I CHERISH OUR MEMORIES, fun times together, sad times we shared, the happiness full of laughter over others in the family, making up Nick names for them that were never told, and so many secrets we would truly get so tickled over that it would be so difficult for us to stop laughing. My life , days, months ,years and building loads of strong bonds between us, for I'm hanging onto everything about u mother, my world, and my side kick for life. See u someday soon. Keep smiling, keep singing and never stop sharing your beautiful voice to this world. Anxious to be In Your presence when my eyes close forever and forever. I sure do love u MOTHER! Cheryl Fiser (your daughter who could be ourselves around one another) miss this so much. LoveLove love.....

Aunt Katherine was a very special person to me. My last visit with her was a very memorable occasion. We had what I call a "tea party". I will miss her very much. Although I did not get to see her during her illness, I will always have the memory of our last visit and her beautiful smile.

My Mimi was the most special grandmother anyone could ask for. She was a spunky little thing and I will always remember her most for that. She was so beautiful...it was as simple as that. I miss her so much since she has passed. I can't believe we are here so soon. It just seems so soon. Mimi was smart as a whip and she knew everything about everything. She was the most particular person I have ever known in my life. Anyone could tell you that. :) That is what made her who she was. I remember when I was little and Mimi use to wash my hair under the faucet in the tub, then I would fall asleep on the bathroom floor watching her cream her face (it seemed to take her hours). I always thought she was so special with her fancy lotions. I remember one summer she healed my face with those fancy lotions when I had been in a really bad bicycle wreck. She didn't want there to be any scars. I remember being so scared to be in her living room when the grandmother clock chimed. It always seemed to chime when I was alone in there! I remember her sandwiches on little party bread, the mickey mouse sprinkler, and spilling bird seed in the back seat of her car (and getting in HUGE trouble). I remember her actually caring about my horse show and dressing up like a cow girl when she attended. I remember how good she always smelled and how her house still smells like her. Most of all I remember her sweet face waving to me as I drove away each time. She would raise the blind in her sunroom, wave big and blow kisses. I will always see her standing in that window. Always. It hurt to feel like I was leaving her each time. I remember so many things...it was hard to see Mimi pass. I always thought she would live forever. It's funny how you think about those things. I'm so sorry she had to get an aggressive disease and I'm so sorry it took her from our family. We miss her so deeply. Mimi...I promise to never forget you, and I will hold you close and dear to my heart forever and ever.
