We were sorry to hear about the loss of your mother and know there will be a emptiness in your heart as you miss her presence. This poem may bring some peace, just thinking of the joy that is now hers.I'm Spending My Christmas With JesusI see the countless Christmas treesAround the world below,With tiny lights like heaven's starsReflecting on the snow.I hear the many Christmas songsThat people hold so dear,But the sound of music can't compare,With the Christmas choir up here.For I have no words to tell youThe joy their voices bring,For it's beyond descriptionTo hear the angels sing.Please let your hearts be joyful,And let your spirit sing,For I am spending Christmas in Heaven,And I am walking with the King.

I am writing for myself and my mother, Margie Bradley. We are so sorry to hear of Jessie's demise, and if we had known sooner we would have come for the service. Jessie was a lovely, sweet person and a wonderful mother to Ron, Linda and especially Debbie. Our hearts and love go out to them.

We are sorry for the loss of Jessie. Your mother was a very friendly and caring person and the Lord has blessed you with these same characteristics. Your devotion and care for your mother is unparalleled! Although your hearts may be filled with sorrow now, we pray that the Lord will reassure you with HIS comfort and peace as you face the days ahead. Jessie will no longer have to endure pain, but will have true peace and joy in the presence of the Lord. It is our hope of eternal salvation that will sustain us all! God's blessings

He Only Takes The Best God watched you as you suffered, and knew you had your share. He gently closed your weary eyes and took you in his care. Your memory is our keepsake, with that we will never part. God has you in his keeping, we have you in our hearts. Nothing could be more beautiful than the memories we have of you. To us you were someone special. God must have thought so too. All our lives we shall miss you, as the years come and go, but in our hearts you will live forever. Because we love you so. God saw you were getting tired, and a cure was not to be. So he put his arms around you and whispered "Come with me" With tearful eyes we watched you suffer and fade away. Although we loved you dearly, you were not meant to stay. A golden heart stopped beating, hard-working hands to rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best! Our thoughts and prayers are with you.

Dear Linda, Debbie, and Ronnie, Your mom was a wonderful lady and was a great influence on so many. I am grateful for her investment in the lives of others. She demonstrated a servant's heart in so many ways. Only eternity will show the fruit of that. We will be praying for you in the days ahead. May the Lord comfort you and bless you as you seek Him.

I will continue to pray for you and your family that God will grant you peace and understanding in your time of loss. I know that you will one day see your mom again. Oh, what a joyous day that will be! No matter how much we prepare ourselves for this time, it still hurts. I also realize that the days ahead can be hard. I will continue to lift you up in my prayers. May God continue to bless you.
