

Charles W. McCormack

MAR 31, 1924 - JAN 24, 2004

Scan to Visit

Table of Contents

Obituary	Page 3
Tribute Wall	Page 4

Charles W. McCormack

MAR 31, 1924 - JAN 24, 2004

Charles W. McCormack Jr, 79, of Fayetteville, Arkansas died Saturday, January 24, 2004 He was born March 31, 1924, in Phoenix, AZ the son of Charles W. McCormack Sr., and Isable Rose McCormack. He was a Chauffeur and a loving husband.

His wife Wanda McCormack of the home survives him.

No Visitation is scheduled

Services will be held 10:00 AM, Wednesday, January 28, 2004 at the Nelson Berna Funeral Home Chapel with Mr. Glenn Lundwick Officiating. A Private burial will follow at the Son's Chapel Cemetery

Visitation	Date	Time	No visitation will be held	Visitation Location	Service	Date	Time
	Wednesday, January 28, 2004	10:00 AM		Service Location	Nelson-Berna Funeral Home Chapel

JF

Jeff Patrick (Long Time Friend) posted:

Charlie was a funny man to say the least. Since I can remember Charlie lived just 3 blocks from my house. He and Wanda were long time family friends. He always had a joke to tell. I will forever remember this one. I bet I can poke my head thru this hole. Then Charlie would make a circle with one hand and put it up to his head and poke his finger thru the hole. He never told a joke that had questionable language and would have never offended someone. He will truly be missed.

August 30 at 10:06 AM

JF

Jane Miller (Friend) posted:

i will always remember charlie as a good friend. everybody who took the time to get to know him loved him and those who didn't take the time have really missed a blessing. the world needs more charlies.

August 30 at 10:06 AM

MF

Mary Beth Harvey (Friend) posted:

Wanda, My heart goes out to you. The love you and Charlie shared for so many years was wonderful to see. My best wishes to you in your time of sorrow. Mary Beth Harvey

August 30 at 10:06 AM

BF

Betty R. Walker (Friend) posted:

I've only known Charlie and Wanda for a short time, about 6 months now. I go to Fayetteville Beauty College, and I got to cut his hair only once, and Wanda also. We will sure miss him coming in and telling everyone jokes and eating a candy bar and sprite. He was a joy to be around and always gave everyone a big hug when he came in. Everyone at the College will miss him coming in. I'm sure I'm speaking for everyone at school who knew him. God Bless your family. Betty Walker

August 30 at 10:06 AM

JA

Joni Black (Acquaintance) posted:

Wanda, I will truly miss Charlie. He never failed to track me down when he was here at DHS. I will miss his jokes, his smile and his big hug he had for me when he seen me. He was a faithful friend. Thinking of you and apologize for missing Charlie's service, but when I found out when it was it was too late. Take care. Joni Black

August 30 at 10:06 AM

EF

Ed Ratledge (A Friend) posted:

Little Charlie if the evil men do lives after them, it is good to be forgotten. Sometimes good is all that flows from a man, what is worthy and therefore forgettable because he gave no harm, struck no harsh chord to set the memory on edge. Wisdom is not said by any number; truth contains no decimal point, and if the world turns around another center, is it not better to know the cleanest road from Huntsville to Siloam Springs than to chase ambition out into a far strange land? Patient till the last, accepting what passes and driving on, steering through life's haze, those are a man's virtues; and if he can be happy in them, that man is king of the world that has befallen him. Such living cannot be praised; it is its own eulogy, written through years, delivered in uncalculated laughter. That we who remain remember only for a while, give honor that was never sought and praise that springs up from the inner wish that we could reach the mark he set merely by being, doing what was his to do; in the last measure that is a man's only legacy. Take what he may, this is all he can ever give. Charles W. McCormack Jr. March 31, 1924 - January 24, 2004

August 30 at 10:06 AM

JF

Johnny Selph (Long Ago Friend) posted:

I worked at Frontier Airlines when Charlie was driving the limo and always remember him as a great man and a pleasure to be around. He was also a man that loved the Lord and his family. My sympathy to those he loved and left behind.

August 30 at 10:06 AM

AF

Amie Mcalister (Dear Friend) posted:

I worked at the laundry mat where Charlie brought his laundry. He was a character, who brought us a lot of laughter and love. Everyone in S. Fayetteville from Mr. Burger to IGA will miss Charlie. He was adorable, Gail Fortino

August 30 at 10:06 AM

JA

Jake Lamkins (Friend From The Airport) posted:

I knew Charlie a long time - from before he married Wanda. I worked at the airport with Frontier Airlines and Charlie worked for Big Charlie Cole who owned the limousine service. We called him Little Charlie to differentiate between him and Cole who was much larger. Then after Frontier quit Fayetteville and I worked at the post office, I would see Charlie when he brought the mail in from the airport. He would step into the back door of the post office and yell as loud as he could, "AIR MAIL!". I once asked him why he did that and he replied very seriously that Big Charlie told him to always let the post office know the air mail had arrived. He was always cheerful and had a good clean joke to tell you. He was invariably friendly to everyone he met and I never once heard him say anything bad about anyone. He was a very rare person and I was glad I knew him so long. My sincere condolences to Wanda and the family.

August 30 at 10:06 AM

KA

Ken & Florence Stewart (Acquaintance) posted:

Always enjoyed visiting with Charlie at work and elsewhere we met. Sympathy to Wanda and all other family members. Also remember his sister and her beautiful paintings.

August 30 at 10:06 AM

Memories only last if you share them

Join us in honoring Charles by contributing to a collection of shared memories.

Scan to Visit

