I was so saddened to hear about the homegoing of Lisa. I know she is in a better place today, but to think of her loving family, husband, and children she has left behind. At times like this, I know we have to remind ourselves often that God knows best, but it is difficult to not question too. My thoughts and prayers are with all the family at this time. Lisa was a friend during my college years at Hyles-Anderson and she brought a smile to my face many times with her wonderful humor. I will never forget her. Michelle

To Lisa Marie's family, I am so sorry to have gotten the call that Lisa Marie had passed away. I was so glad that Lisa and I had gotten back in touch with each other after so many years of not knowing where one another was at. She was a beautiful person with such a big personality. She saw the good in people and made everyone around her laugh. She is with God now and looking down on us. May God give the family and children peace and comfort during this time of grief.

I really wish I could have seen you again just one more time at the Memphis Marathon December 6th, like we planned. I really wish you could have seen me run. I got sick and missed the race. I am so happy you contacted me again from so long ago. God bless the Internet! I am so happy we were able to catch up on years past and how we survived City Baptist. It was good to get it off our chests and move on and be happy. Thank you for being part of my life. You were one of the last persons to call me Timmy and get away with it :), I'll miss that and you. I love you and peace be with you.

Lisa and I only chatted thru the American Singles site; she always brightened up the room; there was a way you could post up confitti; and she always showered me with it; I really enjoyed that; brighten my day up when I was feeling a bit depressed or just having a bad day; always in cheerfull spirit; you could tell she had alot of heart and soul; I am sure she is watching over us as we speak; I am glad to have known here was not for a long time but we are to cross paths with people that we don't expect to; and I am glad I did know her for the short period of time that I did. God be with you.
