Grandma, we will truly miss you. We will miss your gentle ways, your thoughtfulness, and your positive outlook on life. I am thankful for the influence you have had on my life. I thank you for all that you have shared and given me, especially the daughter you raised to be such a wonderful mother to me. Thank you grandma for being here for us for so many years.

The memory that stands out most about grandma is spending my birthdays with her. She always made it a day of funn. We would play games (her favorite was dominos.) Sometimes she would even let me win. She would tell me stories about when she was little, and we would go swimming, and have ice cream. I'm gonna miss you grandma, but can't wait till i get to heaven and see you again.

She was a caring and gentle mother who put her family first and always tried her best. She offered guidance when it was needed but was never dominating. She was fortunate to live a long life and able to enjoy her grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and to pursue her hobbies of traveling, geneology and ceramics. May she rest in peace.

After a long life filled with giving and service, a very kind, gentle, and generous soul has gone to her reward. I was the recipient of of her kindness and generosity during the many hours I spent at the Inskeep household, and on short trips in which I shared in many of their experiences and adventures! Irene will always hold a special place in my memories of the 'growing up' years. (Nancy, Chuck, and Ed, I will be thinking of you and the rest of the family today, and please know that, across the miles, I share in your grief, and also in the celebration of Irene's life.)

About my mother, who was always,consistently, a positive role model regarding being a respectful wife, loving mother, and loyal friend. She was a godly mother, who dedicated her life to volunteering in church, community, and neighborhood activities/service. She always sacrificed for her children and endeavored to expose us to rich life experiences and education. I am looking forward to seeing her in heaven someday!
